

TWO FINANCIERS DENY CHARGES OF LAWSON

Fisk and White Appear Before Committee

Fisk Denies Alleged Combination of a Banker, Cabinet Member and Senator — White Insists Lawson Was "Romancing"

New York, Jan. 29.—Sensational charges made by Thomas W. Lawson in testifying recently in the house rules committee "leak" investigation were vehemently denied today by Fisk and Archibald S. White, two widely known New York financiers, when they appeared before the congressional inquirers.

Fisk, named by Lawson as the banker member of an alleged trio composed of a cabinet member, Secretary McAdoo, a member of congress known as "Senator Q" and a banker who had a large account in Wall street, denied emphatically that no such combination ever existed.

Insists Lawson was "Romancing" White, who was declared by Lawson to have told him that Fisk had boasted to him that he controlled Secretary McAdoo and had offered to call the secretary from his bed by telephone at 1:30 o'clock in the morning to prove his assertion, insisted that Lawson was "romancing."

As a result of these denials, committee members tonight expressed belief that the length of the hearing here had been shortened materially.

The committee now is intent on bringing in inquiry to a close with an investigation only of the alleged peace note "leak."

The name of Count Von Bernstorff was again brought into the inquiry today in questions put to White, but with what purpose was not made known. Sherman L. Whipple, counsel for the committee wanted to know if just prior to the publication of the president's note White had arranged a meeting between the German ambassador and Lawson. White, after saying that he frequently entertained Bernstorff at his home here and that they were friends of long standing, testified that Lawson had sought to have him to arrange a meeting with the ambassador, but that the request had been made at least a year and a half ago. He said the request had come to him through Lawson's "confidential man McSwaney."

White said he did not know whether the meeting ever took place. He said that he had sought to interest Lawson in the securities of the federal chemical company which White was promoting, and that Lawson had offered to "make a market for them."

Whipple questioned White in detail as to his various meetings with the Boston financier and wanted to know if on any occasion other persons were not present. White admitted that about the time the German peace offer was published, he and Lawson had a meeting with Harry Content, a stock broker. He denied, however, that at that time they had talked about the war situation or its effect upon the market.

Never Operated With Lawson The president was also informed that an early effort will be made to secure action on the Porto Rico bill.

Goes Over Webb Bill The Webb bill for common selling agencies abroad for American exporters, already passed by the house was gone over in detail with the president by Senator Pomeroy.

In discussing pay for government employees with a committee from the federal employees union presenting a petition signed with 50,000 names, the president indicated he favored increase, if possible.

"I have been on a salary all my life," he said, "and therefore can sympathize with others in the same fix."

In the midst of his legislative conferences the president was interrupted by twenty Indians, who wanted to shake hands. He listened with a puzzled expression while one of them addressed him in an Indian dialect. Then he smiled when an interpreter told him the Indians wanted no favors, but merely desired to greet "The Great White Father."

No statement was made by the prison authorities today beyond the announcement that Pomeroy had been "put in punishment" which meant that he would have nothing except bread and water until he was ready to observe the rules.

PRESIDENT BELIEVES ACTION CAN BE SECURED

Expresses Opinion to Advisors After Conferences

Discusses Means of Preventing Railroad Strikes, Vocational Education, Revenue, Flood Control, General Land Leasing Bill and Other Measures.

Washington, Jan. 29.—After a series of conferences at the capital President Wilson told his advisors today that he believed action could be secured at this session on every important measure in which he is interested. With different members of the senate and house he had discussed means of preventing railroad strikes, vocational education, revenue, flood control, the general land leasing bill, the Porto Rican bill, a measure to allow American exporters to form common selling agencies abroad, increased pay for federal employees and the placing of postmasters under civil service.

Executive Favors Change.

The president told Senator Poinsett, author of an amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, adopted by the senate which would extend the civil service requirements to all postmasters, that he favored the change. At present only postmasters in small towns in the fourth class are selected by examination and the remainder are appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate. Mr. Wilson said he would be gratified to have the amendment agreed to in conference. Postmaster General Burleson has endorsed it. It is expected to meet with some Democratic opposition. The president said he would not insist on any particular form of railway legislation but that it was absolutely necessary to decide on some means of preventing strikes on the railroads of the country.

Senator Ransdell of Louisiana, told Mr. Wilson that when the rivers and harbors bill is brought up in the senate an effort will be made to attach to it the administration proposal to eliminate the house, creating a board to investigate and coordinate all improvements having to do with flood control, rivers improvements and irrigation.

The president was also informed that an early effort will be made to secure action on the Porto Rico bill.

Goes Over Webb Bill.

The Webb bill for common selling agencies abroad for American exporters, already passed by the house was gone over in detail with the president by Senator Pomeroy.

In discussing pay for government employees with a committee from the federal employees union presenting a petition signed with 50,000 names, the president indicated he favored increase, if possible.

"I have been on a salary all my life," he said, "and therefore can sympathize with others in the same fix."

FARM PRODUCTS SET RECORD FOR VALUE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—American farm products attained a gross value of $3,449,000,000 in 1916, making that year the greatest in point of value of any in the nation's existence.

That estimate of the year's gross value of farm crops and animal products, announced by the Department of Agriculture, exceeds by $2,674,000,000 the total of 1915, the previous record, and by more than $3,500,000,000 the value in 1914.

Crop production for the year was comparatively low and did not reach record figures except in a few minor instances, but high prices sent total values up.

PRESIDENT VETOES IMMIGRATION BILL

Declines to Sign Measure Because of Literacy Test

Second Time Executive Has Vetoed an Immigration Bill for Same Reason—House Will Attempt to Override Veto Thursday

Washington, Jan. 29.—President Wilson today vetoed the immigration bill passed recently by congress, because of its literacy test provision. It was the second time that President Wilson had vetoed an immigration bill because of the literacy test and for the same reason similar measures were given vetoes by Presidents Taft and Cleveland.

President's Veto Message

The president's veto message to the house in which the bill originated follows:

"I very much regret to return this bill without my signature. In most of the provisions of the bill I must be very glad to concur, but I cannot rid myself of the conviction that the literacy test constitutes a radical change in the policy of this nation which is not justified in principle. It is not a test of character, of quality or of personal fitness but would operate in most cases merely as a penalty for lack of opportunity in the country from which the alien seeks admission."

The opportunity to gain an education is in many cases one of the chief opportunities sought by the immigrant in coming to the United States and our experience in the past has not been to very delicate character. Such an undesirable emigrant: Test of quality and of purpose cannot be objected to on principle, but tests of opportunity surely may be. Might Cause Diplomatic Trouble. "Moreover even if this test might be equitably insisted on, one of the exceptions proposed to its application involves a provision which might lead to very delicate and hazardous diplomatic situations."

The bill exempts from the operation of the literacy test all aliens who shall prove to the satisfaction of the proper immigration officials or to the secretary of labor that they are seeking admission to the United States to avoid religious persecution in the country of their last permanent residence, whether such persecution is evidenced by overt acts of governmental regulations that discriminate against the alien or the race to which he belongs because of his religious faith.

Such a provision so applied and administered would oblige the officer concerned to effect to pass judgment upon the laws and practices of a foreign government; and desiring that they did not constitute religious persecution. This would, to say the least be a most invidious function for any administrative officer of this government to perform and it is not only possible but probable that very serious questions of international justice and comity would arise between this government and the government of the country so officially concerned should its exercise be adopted.

"I dare say that these consequences were not in the minds of the proponents of this provision but the provision separately and in itself renders it unwise for me to give my assent to this legislation in its present form."

Will Try to Override Veto

When the message was read in the house it was ordered to lie on the table until Thursday morning and champions of the bill began laying their plans for an effort to override the veto. Chairman Burnett announced tonight that he would move for a vote Thursday. Two years ago the house lacked only four votes of the necessary two-thirds majority to pass the bill over the veto, the years being 261 and the vote 135.

The attempt having failed in the house, no action was taken by the senate.

When President Taft vetoed a similar measure because of the literacy test the senate succeeded in overriding him by more than a two-thirds majority, but the house fell short of a dozen votes.

The bill which the president vetoed today passed the house last March by a vote of 308 to 87 and the senate in December by 64 to 7.

New York, Jan. 29.—Two birth control propagandists—Mrs. Margaret Sanger and Miss Fannie Mondell—were tried in Brooklyn for circulating their literature while a third, Mrs. Ethel Byrne, sister of Mrs. Sanger, took food voluntarily for the first time as a prisoner on Blackwell's Island. Decision was reserved in the cases of Mrs. Sanger and Miss Mondell. The district attorney and counsel for the women were given until Feb. 2 to submit briefs. The defendants announced they would begin a "hunger strike" if convicted and sent to jail.

Regarding Mrs. Byrne, a prison bulletin issued tonight said her physical condition was good.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

Wintry weather on nearly all battle fronts has held military operations to virtually small engagements.

Snowstorms have brought the operations southwest of Riga, almost to a halt. To the south in Volhynia and across the line in Galicia somewhat spirited isolated fights have taken place. In Roumania only the most minor operations are chronicled.

Near Hill 304 near Verdun, artillery bombardments on both ends have been rather severe and grenade fighting has taken place. Several French attacks in this region Sunday broke down with heavy casualties according to Berlin.

While Berlin says the British in attacks against the Turks on the Irak front in Asiatic Turkey last week met with repulse, a London official communication asserts that Saturday and Sunday the British gained complete possession of Turkish first and second line trenches southwest of Kut-el-Amara on a front of 4,399 yards and also took the third and fourth line trenches on a front of 600 yards. A large number of casualties were suffered by the Turks.

Representatives of the entente allies have arrived in Petrograd for a war council.

PREPARE TO PREVENT FURTHER RIOTING

Juarez Police and Military will Co-operate

Street Cars Will Not be Permitted to Operate Between El Paso and Juarez. The Morning Bridge Guards Will Aid in Enforcing Quarantine

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 29.—Preparations were being made tonight on both the American and Mexican sides of the river to stop any further quarantine riots at the international bridge when the port opens at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. Thru guard cavalry arrived from Juarez and Juarez police and military will co-operate to prevent further demonstrations. Defacto troops will be stationed at the Mexican end of the bridge.

A conference between General Pablo Gonzalez, of the Carranza army for the north, Chief of Police Maximo Torres of Juarez and Inspector General Garcia was held at the Carranza consulate here late today at which plans were made for preventing further demonstrations against the quarantine placed by United States health officers because of the presence of typhus fever in northern Mexico.

It was decided not to permit street cars to operate to Juarez tomorrow morning to have a large force of General Murguia's cavalry and sufficient police stationed along Juarez avenue leading to the bridge to quell any disturbances.

Chief of Police Torres announced he would arrest agitators. He said there were five Villa partisans known to have been in the mob today and they would be arrested if they appeared tomorrow. He also said eight American gamblers were in jail in Juarez on minor charges not connected with the riots.

Brigadier General George Bell, Jr. announced tonight that he would leave the situation to the local police officers unless a request was made for the assistance of his troops. He said, however, his brigade guards would assist in enforcing the quarantine.

The mob of men and women crossed the boundary line marked on the international bridge today to throw bottles and rocks at the soldiers and government inspectors. One Mexican took five baths today and sold his extra certificate to other Mexicans.

GONZALEZ APPEALS TO UNITED STATES

Deposed President of Costa Rica Asks for Intervention

Washington, Jan. 29.—Alfredo Gonzalez, deposed president of Costa Rica has sent an appeal to the United States government for intervention. He is a refugee now in the American legation at San Jose where his former minister of war, Federico Tinoco, has installed himself as provisional president after a revolution of twelve hours.

Official reports afford little ground for the belief that the United States will interfere. The revolutionists killed no one and according to reports the capital and countryside are quiet. General Tinoco's control of the army and his personal standing with other men high in the government affairs apparently enabled him to accomplish the overthrow of President Gonzalez without opposition.

Great surprise was caused at the state department by the revolt. For almost forty years Costa Rica has been without a revolution and has been regarded as a modern Latin American government.

During the Gonzalez administration the relations of the United States and Costa Rica have been somewhat embarrassing, particularly because of the controversy that arose over the question of the right of Nicaragua to enter into a treaty with the United States ceding rights for the building of an inter-oceanic canal without having consulted Costa Rica.

COUNCIL ENDORSES REJECTED AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Rejection by the house banking and currency committee of certain amendments to the federal reserve act proposed by the reserve board was followed tonight by the board making public an endorsement of the rejected amendments by the federal advisory council of which James B. Forgan, a Chicago banker is president.

"It will be noted," reads the board's statement, "that the council unanimously approved the proposed note issue amendment which has been struck out by the committee and the council has suggested a modification of the proposed reserves to be carried by member banks with federal banks. In view of the fact, however, that the committee struck out all requirements for vault cash, the board believes that the suggested reserves of seven, ten and thirteen per cent, respectively, for country banks, reserve city banks and central reserve city banks should be retained."

WARN ALLIED SHIPS

Norfolk, Va., Wireless warnings from entente allied warships received here tonight told of the presence of a supposed German raider in latitude 40 north, longitude 6 west which would be 700 miles off New York. The supposed raider was seen in this position Jan. 29. Merchant ships were cautioned against approaching this point.

RETURNING VALUABLE JEWEL TO CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—One of the most valuable jewels stolen from the Art Institute a year ago when the Ida E. Noyes collection, valued at $30,000, was taken by a burglar, is being brought back to Chicago from Hot Springs, Ark., where it was recovered yesterday. The jewel is a Mexican opal and is said to have been a part of a $10,000 necklace stolen.

The clue to the opal was obtained from Ange Larson, the man now under arrest in connection with the robbery. It was traced through an antique shop here to Mrs. Flowers, a Montana woman, who willingly surrendered the jewel when told that it was a part of the Noyes collection.

HUNDREDS OF REFUGEES FOLLOW AMERICAN FORCE

Many Settlers Carry All Their Worldly Possessions

American Cattleman States Refugees are Strong Out Along the Communicating Trail for More Than Five Miles Behind Pershing's Main Column.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 29.—More than 1,000 refugees are following in the wake of the American expeditionary forces on their march out of Mexico. An American cattleman who came to the border at Columbus, N. M., today said the refugees were strung out along the communicating trail for more than five miles behind the main column of General Pershing's troops and were enveloped in a great cloud of dust.

Mormons were riding in automobiles, covered wagons of the prairie schooner type, in farm wagons and on horses and mules, according to the cattle man. They were driving their milk cows ahead of them while behind tramped hundreds of natives, Chinese and others who had no means on transportation on the long march to the border. Nothing that could be brought out was left behind it was said and many of the settlers in the beautiful valley of the Casas Grandes river carried all of their worldly possessions with them.

To Camp at Ojo Fedeico

The head of the column was expected to reach Ojo Fedeico tonight and camp near the water holes there. This is approximately 40 miles from Colonia Dublan and is considered the easiest part of the journey out. From Ojo Fedeico to Papayotes (three windmills) is considered the worst part of the journey. There is no water in this stretch of twenty miles and the country resembles a desert covered with sand and cactus.

National guard encampments here which have been abandoned since the troops went home will be used to house the refugees until they can find homes. A large number of tent houses and mess shacks at the camp of the Pennsylvania troops have been been offered the Mormon leaders here.

General Pershing's column is expected to reach Laguna de Palomas by Friday and lead a general review there Sunday after the rear guard cavalry arrives from Dublin. The entire expedition then will march into Columbus from Palomas a distance of seven miles. It is expected that this last march will take place Monday.

Confirm Report of Occupation

Juarez, Jan. 29.—Confirmation of the occupation of El Valle by Villa forces was received here tonight from Casas Grandes. It was said Villa troops marched up from Nampiquipa where they had been awaiting the departure of the American troops from El Valle before occupying the town.

Villa followers were also reported to have been seen in the vicinity of Santa Sofia on the Mexico Northwestern railroad thirty five miles from Ojo Fedeico.

A freight train left tonight for Casas Grandes to bring out any remaining refugees and the property of the Mormons and others. The passenger train carrying 500 refugees was scheduled to leave Casas Grandes at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning for Juarez.

General Pershing's rear guard was expected to leave Colonia Dublan after the departure of the train. General Jose Murguia was expected to return from Casas Grandes late tonight.

APPROPRIATE MONEY FOR AMERICAN SCHOOLS

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Appropriations totaling $75,200 to American schools and colleges were announced here tonight by the general education board. The money from the John D. Rockefeller fund, includes $100,000 to Cornell College, Iowa, $150,000 to DePauw university, Indiana and $125,000 to Swarthmore College, Pennsylvania.

For negro education $197,500 is appropriated. Fisk university, Tennessee, receives $50,000; Spellman Seminary, Atlanta, Ga. $85,000; and sums ranging from $2,000 to $7,500 are given to small institutions in southern states, together with $40,000 to be devoted to instruction among negroes in rural districts in the south.

The Arkansas state department of education receives $2,700 for the support of a rural school agent.

FILE BANKRUPTCY PETITION

Chicago, Jan. 29.—The private banking firm of Robert L. Pitts & Sons, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy today giving assets of $245,324 and liabilities of $180,072. Hugh L. Pitts, junior member of the firm and member of the county civil service commission said ill-health of his father caused the petition to be filed.

DEFENSE BUDGET BEGINS TO TAKE FINAL SHAPE

House Passes Fortification Bill Carrying $51,000,000

Naval Committee Completes Its 1918 Naval Appropriation on Bill With a Total of More Than $351,000,000—Army Bill Still in Committee.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The administration's $500,000,000 defense budget began to take final shape in congress today when house passed the fortifications bill carrying a total of more than $51,000,000 for coast defenses and the house naval committee completed its 1918 naval appropriation bill with a total of more than $351,000,000.

Army Bill in Committee

The army appropriation bill, the third element of the program, still is in the house military committee which is expected to complete it next week. Estimates for the army reach a total of more than $360,000,000. The only other military legislation pending is the universal military training bill before a senate subcommittee which will conclude its hearings this week when Major Generals Scott and Wood are to be recalled for cross-examination on their previous statements that federalization of the national guard has proved a failure. It is not expected that congress will take any action on the universal training bill at this session.

The navy bill carries a total of $351,433,245 as against $313,000,000 last year. It provides for the construction of three 4,200 ton battleships at a total cost of $28,178,592 each; one battle cruiser at a cost of $26,694,496; three scout cruisers at $6,746,145 each; 15 destroyers at $1,748,612 each; one destroyer tender at $2,808,000; one submarine tender at $2,199,400 and eighteen $800 ton type submarines at $1,434,093 each. The program is that recommended by the department and represents one half of the remaining portion of the three year program approved last year.

The committee departed from the department's recommendations only in the type of submarines provided for. No small coast defense submarines are authorized such as those now in service.

Raises Limit of Cost

Taking up the problem of getting under construction the four battle cruisers authorized last year the committee raised the limit of cost for the hull and machinery to $19,000,000 from $16,500,000.

The committee heeded, however, Secretary Daniels' recommendations that navy yards be fitted to build large numbers of capital ships, authorizing the expenditure of an additional $12,000,000 for that purpose in the department is unable to make satisfactory contracts for any vessel in the present bill or

PHYSICALLY AND MENTALLY FIT

The Springfield State Register indicates a lack of sound argument against the candidacy of Senator E. S. Smith for the circuit judgeship by suggesting that he is a little too venerable for the office. This is the only objection thus far made to Senator Smith from any quarter and is unavailing. Meet Senator Smith and you have the answer to this argument for he immediately impresses you with his physical and mental fitness. Physical inheritance and the way that people live have much to do with their age at fifty, or sixty, or seventy. Many men are in just the prime of life at seventy and going to their everyday tasks the accumulated wisdom of years—a ripeness of experience which cannot come without the passage of a certain amount of time. Senator Smith belongs to that class.

CARNATION DAY WAXES

Monday was "Carnation Day," designated as such some years ago in memory of the late President McKinley. So far as observed, there were no carnations worn in Jacksonville and it has been noticeable that there have been fewer with each succeeding anniversary. This does not mean that the memory of the president is not revered. The particular form of showing respect was one that could not live and about the only practical way of making certain of any country-wide observance of the anniversary or the death of any prominent American is by designating that date as a legal holiday. When the banks are closed and public business is suspended and flags are at half mast, then the people are brought face to face with the meaning of the anniversary. President McKinley's services to his country were conspicuous but those familiar with his life admire it most of all because of a certain purity of character and an individual loftiness of spirit. His dramatic death gave him place as a martyr for his country and had his end come in some natural way probably "carnation day" would never have been established.

"THE CURSE OF MEROZ"

Colonel Roosevelt and Colonel Bryan in addition to other public services which may be accredited to them, have certainly done a great deal to popularize Bible reading. It is seldom that either one of these great orators makes a public address without frequent Bible references and quotations. A few years ago Colonel Roosevelt's reference "We stand at Armageddon" resulted in the dust coming off of many a Bible cover in the effort to locate just what the colonel was talking about.

His latest public utterance refers to the "Curse of Meroz" and now it will be the proper thing to look up Judges 5:23 and see what the colonel is talking about. The reference came in an interview at Oyster Bay in which Colonel Roosevelt condemned President Wilson's attitude in opposition to military training. This is the somewhat picturesque language in which Colonel Roosevelt applied the ancient Bible passage to present day affairs.

"When fear of the German submarine next moves Mr. Wilson to declare for peace without victory" between the tortured Belgians and their cruel oppressors and taskmasters, let him think of the prophetic Deborah, who, when Sisera mightily oppressed the children of Israel with his chariot of iron, and when the people of Meroz stood neutral between the oppressed and the oppressor, sang of them:

"Curse ye, Meroz, said the Angel of Jehovah, curse ye bitterly the inhabitants thereof, because they came not to the help of Jehovah, to the help of Jehovah against the mighty. President Wilson has earned for this nation the curse of Meroz for he has not dared to stand on the side of the Lord against the wrongdoings of the mighty."

THE LITERACY TEST FOR ALIENS.

President Wilson views an immigration with a literacy test included in the same light as his predecessors in office. President Taft and President Cleveland. The bill was passed by such heavy majorities in both the senate and the house that there is a strong possibility that it may be enacted into a law by a two-thirds vote and thus get on the statute books notwithstanding the president's opposition.

The president in his veto message raised strong points against the proposed bill. He argues rightly that this country is more concerned with the physical well-being and the moral state of aliens who come to U. S. shores than in their educational qualifications. Some men and women among the aliens capable of making excellent citizens, have had such meager educational advantages that they could not possibly measure up to the literacy test provided in the bill. Many of them come to these shores for the very purpose of gaining a better education for their children and this fact indicates their appreciation of what education means and the benefits which come from learning.

The illiterate alien can be taught but if he is physically or morally unfit, the chances are all against his becoming a citizen desirable in any way. The president also points to a real danger in the proposed law—the danger which lurks in the exception to the rule. By this provision immigration authorities would have to pass upon the question as to whether aliens who came claiming the protection of this country because of religious persecution are in reality being persecuted. The president is right in saying that this provision might easily open the way to various international complications. When it comes to passing on religious affairs as handled in foreign countries officials of the U. S. would be on delicate ground indeed.

A CHANCE FOR DIPLOMACY.

Because of the objections made by residents of South Jacksonville to hauling freight thru that village the work of installing a switch at Jacksonville State hospital came to an end. It seems that unless these objections are removed that the money appropriated for this desirable improvement will revert to the state. From an unbiased point of view this looks like an improvement which would be beneficial to all parties concerned. It looks as if the difficulties in the way of the work could be ironed out of the officials of Jacksonville and South Jacksonville were to get into conference.

The sum total of freight which would be hauled thru the village, including coal for Jacksonville State hospital and for the Jacksonville Railway & Light company plant, would not average more than three or four cars a day. Provision could be made that this hauling could be done at night. A freight car makes no more noise than a passenger car and if moved after nightfall there could be no charge of the cars being unsightly and thus a detriment to the village. To haul coal in this way would mean a saving of the Jacksonville street paving. The people of South Jacksonville, altho they are not taxed for that paving, are directly interested in its condition. Most of them come into Jacksonville once or twice a day and so they will be directly benefitted if the South Main street pavement and others are kept free from heavy haulage.

Possibly some concessions about sewerage or something else could be made to South Jacksonville by Jacksonville if the objections to the switch were removed. At any rate this is a case for an early conference and for diplomacy. It is not a case for commission or court hearings. Discussion of the question with the good of all as the paramount consideration should speedily pave the way to settlement.

All Cars Good

The modern motor car is fine. In working out its smooth design, the best inventors in the land have nearly spavined brain and hand. Pale science sat up day and night, to make your motor a delight. The choo-choo wagon of this time is out of sight, superb, sublime, and it will stand for any test; all cars are good—but mine's the best. All cars are good; the powered boat, the trolley, get it's owners goat, is better far than anything we knew ten years ago, by jing. The monarch of the last decade, when he set forth, on dress parade, could not command a rig as great as your old "four," or "six," or "eight." Invention rose, at man's behest and made great cars and mine's the best. No more we wait for sidetracked trains, but scoot at will across the plains. All roads are ours, all pleasant views, the prairie wet with morning dew, the hillsides and the woodland green, while we can pay for gasoline. We travel when we wish to go, and travel fast or travel slow, and when we're tired we stop to rest. All cars are good, but mine's the best.

OBITUARY

Mention was made recently of the death of Ella Pauline Fry, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fry. The child was born in this city Dec. 2, 1915, so at the time of her death was only a little more than thirteen months old. For four weeks the baby was ill with a complication of measles and pneumonia. The parents used every means at hand for relief and the best of medical aid was secured but their efforts were unavailing and the little life went out. It seems sad for even a little child to cultivate patience and such a spirit was evident during the weeks that the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fry was so seriously ill.

In addition to the father and mother a little brother is left and many relatives and friends join in the sorrow of this family. At the funeral services Rev. George A. Haas officiated and spoke in a way which brought a great deal of comfort to the sorrowing ones. Interment was in Naples cemetery. The bearers were Forrest Adams, Freddy Adams, Helen Leunig and Thelma May. The flowers were in charge of Ruth Norman and Denny Kern. Neighbors and friends who wish to show an effort to be helpful to Mr. and Mrs. Fry in this their time of great sorrow and these acts of kindness will be ever held in loving memory.

FUNERALS

Funeral services for Mrs. Amanda Early Bell were held from Second Christian church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Raphael Hancock. Music was furnished by the choir of the church. The flowers were cared for by Miss Nellie Early, Miss Josie Jackson, Miss Mattie Carpenter, Miss Annie Early and Mrs. Elmer Guthrie. Burial was in Jacksonville cemetery the hearse being Ernest Wright, McKinley Wright, Harvey Wright, Harvey Naul, Edward Wright, Joseph Wheeler, Silas Timberlick and George Florence.

The funeral of Robert McFarland, held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Literberry Christian church, were attended by many friends and the services, in charge of the Rev. C. G. Cantrell of Concord, were very impressive. Music was furnished by a quartet, composed of Mrs. W. H. Crum, Miss Wilma Crum, Orville Crum and John Hitchins. The selections given by them were "God Will Take Care of You," "Deliverance Will Come," "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "Looking This Way," and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." The many flowers were cared for by Mrs. John Daniels, Miss May Myers and Miss Lela Maul.

After the funeral the body was taken to Chandlerville for burial. The bearers were Albert Crum, John Hitchins, Louis Maul, Mitchell Willis, John Myers and Frank Hopkins. The commitment service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Cartwright, pastor of the Christian church at Chandlerville.

MAX BLOOM IN A NEW SHOW
The Max Bloom show retains his old title the Sunny Side of Broadway, he will present an entirely new show at the Grand here beginning Thursday. Of course he will have tricks the horse, but during the summer months Becky has been taught some new tricks, such as doing the Charlie Chaplin walk. Boyce Woodfolk has provided the most pretentious production for the Sunny Side of Broadway this season that he has ever had. There are six scenes, fifteen songs and specialties and a chorus of more than a dozen girls.

With Max Bloom this season will be Miss Sher, the girl who wears the stunning gowns as usual. Others in his support are Ralph Creeden, Elsie Moore, Jack Brown, John Keogh, Barney Duffy, George Browning, Tom Brown and others.

The 1917 version of the Sunnyside of Broadway is undoubtedly the best show Max has ever had.

A magnificent picturization of the world's most famous classic. Miss Bara is happy. When Theda Bara learned that her next picture-play was to be "Romeo and Juliet," she breathed a long sigh of happiness. For many months Miss Bara's main ambition had been to take the part of the innocent little Italian girl who gives up all for love.

"I was so tired of hearing people say that I could take only one kind of role," says Miss Bara, "that I wanted to play something entirely different. And I know of nothing so far apart as the character of Juliet and the character of the screen vampires that I have been doing for Mr. Fox."

INSPECTED TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIA ELSEWHERE

Jacksonville Sought Ideas of Construction and Management of Institutions in Preparation for Work Here.

Dr. Grace Dewey and Carl H. Weber have returned from a trip to Chicago and points in Wisconsin where, with Miss Louise Capps and Miss Katherine Olmstead, they visited several tuberculosis sanatoriums. Mr. Weber went to Chicago for a meeting of the state anti-tuberculosis league on Friday and on Saturday attended a conference of public health officers and representatives of the county boards in the various counties of the state wherein favorable action was taken at the last election on the proposal to erect tuberculosis sanatoriums.

Saturday afternoon Mr. Weber and the other Jacksonville people started for their Wisconsin trip. At Kenosha they visited the Willow Brook sanatorium and at Milwaukee the Milwaukee sanatorium. Both of these institutions have been built thru a county tax plan and in every way conform with modern ideas as to proper treatment of tuberculosis.

There and other hospitals of the kind are built in cottage system although some large buildings are necessary. The purpose of these visits was to get some first hand information as to the best plans for building and also to get a line on methods of management and operation. Mr. Weber said yesterday that at the Chicago conference it was very plain that all the county officials desired to make no mistakes in their preparations and were very much opposed to erection of expensive buildings which might later be found not to meet needs and conditions. The endeavor in this and the other counties will be to have the money raised thru taxation for the anti-tuberculosis work spent in the most effective manner possible in order to secure the best results.

A divorce suit has been filed by Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty in behalf of Mrs. Kitty Tritch against her husband, Frank C. Tritch. On petition of the attorneys a temporary injunction was granted by Master in Chancery John M. Butler to restrain the defendant from using any violence and to make it possible for Mrs. Tritch and her children to live in the Scott hotel in Chapin without being molested. The bill for divorce sets forth that the two were married in 1895 and have lived together until the present time. Mr. and Mrs. Tritch have since last August been operating the Scott hotel at Chapin and she charges that several times recently her husband has attacked her and treated her with great cruelty.

Mr. and Mrs. Tritch have four children, one of them married and the other three living with the parents in Chapin.

WOMEN WANT TO HAVE SUFFRAGE NOW

Organization is Seeking to Have Bill Passed Asking for Constitutional Amendment.

Miss Anna Sanders of Ottawa is in the city interviewing citizens in the interest of the woman's suffrage amendment. Miss Sanders represents the suffrage amendment alliance, of which Mrs. Catherine W. McCullough is one of the leading spirits. The organization is pushing the suffrage amendment, believing that this is the quickest and surest way of securing full rights of suffrage for the women of the state. In order to have a suffrage amendment submitted it will be necessary to secure a two-thirds vote of both houses of the legislature and subsequently a majority of all those voting at the election at which it is submitted.

In support of their assertion that the amendment would have a chance to carry the suffrage alliance quotes the fact that all of the eleven amendments submitted to the voters since 1878 have been carried. One organization of women in the state is firmly opposed to submitting the suffrage amendment at this time. They would like to have full suffrage rights but believe the best policy is to be content with the rights they now have and to work heartily for a constitutional convention and then bring the necessary influence to bear to see to it that full woman's suffrage is included in the changes made.

ABOUT COLD WEATHER

Sunday morning the Journal 41 years ago mentioned that yesterday was the coldest day on record and some yet remember it. S. O. Barr says he knew of thermometers which ranged from 37 to 42 degrees below zero, a very reliable instrument belonging to the late Joseph O. King registering 41 below. He said he started out that morning with a light overcoat and met Prof. J. W. Swiler going to his duties as teacher at the State School for the Deaf. The professor was very thoroughly bundled up and told Mr. Barr he would freeze before getting down town and he did almost do so.

Mr. Barr also recalls the fearful blizzard of Dec. 31, 1862, when it was bitterly cold tho the mercury was not so low as on the date mentioned above. He said that Thomas Boyd, residing in Alabama, had been deprived of everything by the war and his relatives here had sent him means to enable him to come to Jacksonville and he arrived with his family shivering with cold the children not even having shoes. They were quickly provided for however and remained here several years. The Wabash railroad was blocked and didn't move a train thru the place for four days.

Ralph Frost, formerly of this city and now of Scott county, says he has the best kind of reason to remember Jan. 2, 1873. He was out feeding and his feet were so badly frozen he had to cut off his boots. The field pumps froze and for several days he had to draw water with a bucket and rope for a lot of cattle.

William McCormick especially recalled Jan. 22, 1882, when there was a fall of snow rivaling that of 1873. It only didn't remain on as long while it was on it kept everybody in doors.

J. B. Taylor said that John T. Alexander had bought their crop of corn. The snow was so deep that only the stakes of the rail fences appeared above the snow and when John T. was hauling away the grain he mischievously drove his team astride the fence top breaking off the tops of the stakes that appeared above the snow.

A well known stock dealer undertook to handle some cattle at the time of the coldest weather and the poor creatures were almost beside themselves with cold. The breath froze on the ends of their noses, their ears were frozen and they were a pitiable sight.

SEEK TO REQUIRE MILITARY TRAINING

Representative of League Advocating Chamberlain Bill Spent Monday in Jacksonville

Military training for every young man of the country, to commence when he reaches the eighteenth year is the plan which is being advocated by the Universal Military Training league and embodied in the revised Chamberlain bill now before congress. The league is carrying on an educational campaign throughout the country with the object of bringing to the attention of the public the necessity for serious thought on the question of military training in this country.

H. W. Bettinhausen, field secretary of the league spent yesterday in Jacksonville, interviewing prominent business and professional men, a number whom were enlisted to aid in the distribution of pamphlets, outlining the benefits of military training.

Under the terms of the proposed bill, every youth of the country during his eighteenth year would be required to take six months of actual military training at a camp, to be designated by the government. The government would also pay all expenses and furnish all equipment. The only exemptions would be total physical disability and certain credit to a maximum of four months would be given for a complete military course taking in a recognized school, university or college. In the second or nineteenth year, the youth would take one month's training and in succeeding years summer encampment points would be provided such as have been held at Pittsburgh and Fort Benjamin Harrison.

It is estimated by authorities that under the provisions of this bill, 500,000 young men would be called for training each year and in case of a national crisis, the class last trained would be called first to the colors.

SEATOR SMITH HERE

Senator E. S. Smith, Republican candidate for election as circuit court judge, was in Jacksonville a few hours yesterday. It is Senator Smith's hope to visit this county at some other time but as he feels the necessity of attending most of the senate sessions in Springfield he will not have a great deal of time between now and March 4 to visit all the cities and towns in this judicial district.

MRS. WORTHINGTON'S CONDITION UNCHANGED

There was a great many interested inquiries yesterday about the condition of Mrs. Thomas Worthington, whose serious illness was mentioned in Sunday's Journal. There was no special development Sunday or Monday in Mrs. Worthington's case, although there was some slight improvement. Not from the time of the attack until some time Monday was it possible to give the patient nourishment of any kind. Physicians in attendance stated that the symptoms might be said to be very slightly improved, and the condition would be likely to continue without any marked change for a number of days. Morrison Worthington, who was summoned from Harvard law school, arrived in the city at a late hour Monday night.

ALUMNI WILL MEET

A meeting of the Jacksonville Society of the Alumni of Illinois college has been called for this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the basement of the Ayers National bank building. Some matters of interest will be considered and full attendance is hoped for.

FIRE DEPARTMENT SPENDING BUSY DAY

Three Calls Made Sunday and Monday — Automobile Oil Truck Burned.

Soot burning in a chimney at the residence of Louis Kelly, 646 South Diamond street, caused an alarm to be sent to the fire department about 8 o'clock Sunday morning. No damage was done and the services of the department were not needed.

At 12 o'clock Sunday night the department made a run to the residence of Mrs. Mary T. Carried, 1152 West College avenue. Soot burning in a chimney caused the alarm and no damage was done. This run was made in a driving rain and was a hard one on both horses and men.

Couchman's Oil Truck Burned
Monday about noon the fire department received a call on North Diamond street north of Walnut street where the automobile oil truck of W. J. Couchman had caught fire.

When the department arrived the body of the truck and the tanks were enveloped in flames. The flames had not yet reached the wheels and Chief Hunt's first impulse was to overturn the truck and try to save the wheels. He was afraid, however, that such action might cause the oil to spread or explode and burn some of his men and it was not done.

The truck and ninety gallons of coal oil and twenty-five gallons of gasoline were destroyed. The loss was covered by $700 insurance. It is not known what caused the fire. Mr. Couchman said he stopped the truck to fix a chain and when he alighted the flames burst from underneath the truck. Chief Hunt is of the opinion that backfiring from the engine must have started the blaze.

Smith Loss Adjusted
The loss on the residence and furniture of Capt. Alex Smith was adjusted Saturday by J. W. Hubble. The loss on the residence was fixed at $1,400 and on the furniture at $900.

The minister had often called upon the deceased during her illness and visited her at the hospital. As a part of the services Rev. Mr. Cantrell read a scripture lesson from the 14th chapter of John and spoke words of comfort to the large company of sorrowing friends gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to Mrs. Naulty. Music was supplied by members of the elphorn choir, who sang several well known hymns. There were many floral offerings and these were cared for by Misses Alma Newell and Isabel Swain.

At the Yatsville cemetery the impressive ritual of the Court of Honor was carried out. The bearers were E. E. Hart, N. T. Fox, Howard E. Hodgeson, William Richardson, J. J. Newell and S. M. Jumper.

WILL MAKE PROFILES PERMANENT RECORDS

City Council Discussion Turns to Permanent Information About Water and Sewer Departments—Mr. Vasconcellos Has Prepared Blue Prints

A regular meeting of the city council was held Monday morning. There was little before the council other than some routine business. Dr. W. P. Duncan appeared before the council to ask if the paving for East State and South Main streets was to be let as one contract, since the work is being advertised at one time. He was assured by Engineer Henderson that this was not the case and while bids will be received at the same time that the contract is being spread separately against the properties.

Practically the only other matter considered was after Commissioner Vasconcellos had laid before the council blue prints of the city reservoir, together with the stand pipe, one of the wells at the north side pumping station and several of the test holes made. Mr. Vasconcellos explained that he was having this work done because he had been unable to locate any blue prints of any kind which would indicate the facts about the reservoir, nor had he been able to find a log of the wells at the north side station.

Mr. Vasconcellos drew the plans himself and gave all the data and then had the blue prints prepared by the Jacksonville Engineering company. One set of the blue prints was prepared for the mayor, one for the superintendent of the water department, and one will be filed with the city records.

Had to Hunt for Sewer

Mr. Cox mentioned the difficulty he had in endeavoring to locate the brook sewer at a given point. Because of inability to find any information on file it was necessary to have several men at work for two or three days endeavoring to locate the sewer in a given area. Then Mr. Henderson told of difficulties he had encountered because complete records of the city's sewer and water pipes had not been kept. Mayor Rodgers said that these things constituted important records of the city and if a man had a set of blue prints or plans showing the locations of three days endeavoring to locate the pipes, that they should certainly become a part of the office and not the private property of the official serving. Mr. Vasconcellos' idea is that the third plan placed on file in the city clerk's office will be for the use of his successor in office, whoever that may be.

As a result of the discussion Commissioner Widmayer will probably secure a steel filing case which is fireproof and in this will be kept blue prints and records for the light, water and sewerage systems. Some time ago Commissioner Vasconcellos had a blue print made of the electric wiring system and this has been changed from time to time. As soon as all of the changes have been made a new blue print will be made and this will become a part of the city records. Mr. Vasconcellos' experience as a contractor has been of great benefit to him in the preparation of his plans.

WHAT IS A ONE CENT SALE AND WHY IS IT

One Cent Sales As Held By the Rexall Drug Stores the Country Over are Most Unique in Country.

What is a one cent sale as given by the Rexall Drug Store and why is it and how can they do it? This is a question often asked since the Luby-Davis Drug Co. announced such a sale to begin Wednesday. The question can be answered by a customer who is acquainted with a one cent sale, better than the Rexall Drug store man himself and this is from a customer down in Alton where a number of these sales have been successfully run. He says:

"A one cent sale is a sale where you buy one of each article and then get another one for another penny. For instance if you buy a 25c can of Rexall Lacinum powder, you are entitled to buy another can for one cent. If you buy a dozen cans of talcum powder, at 25c each you are entitled to get another dozen for 12c."

"The one cent sale of the Rexall Drug store differs from the bargain sale of the ten cent store in that there is no special limit placed on the number you can buy and everyone is entitled to buy whatever they wish. It is not a case of the first come, first served."

"Speaking as a customer of the Rexall one cent sale, I can state that no one who has ever attended them and learned just what they are has ever been disappointed. They are awaited with much interest in Alton."

"And why do the Rexall Drug stores hold these sales, you may ask. They are held to introduce Rexall goods and advertising these goods. Newspaper advertising is used to acquaint the public with the bargains offered and the buyer is entitled to make as many purchases as he wishes and get all he or she wishes of it at the prices named, one at the regular price and one just like it at the price of one cent."

"A Rexall one cent sale is the liveliest kind of a sale that happens in a city and certainly the buyers who reside in a city where a live Rexall store is putting on the one cent sale. It deserves your most careful consideration."

MONEY FOR HOSPITAL SWITCH MAY REVERT

Must Be Used Before July 1 If Work Is Done from Pre-ent Funds

Following the meeting of the city council Monday morning Dr. Edward called attention to certain facts relating to the appropriation made by the state legislature for the construction of a switch at Jacksonville State hospital. The appropriation was secured from the legislature at the suggestion of the state board of administration after the matter was taken up by the Jacksonville business men.

It is conceded that a switch at Jacksonville State hospital would be of benefit to the hospital in cutting out haulage costs from the railroad tracks to the hospital and would be beneficial to Jacksonville, that it would remove the heavy freight traffic from the paved streets. This would be especially true of coal hauling. Soon after the proposal to establish the switch was made, objections were filed by residents of Jacksonville. These objections were made on the theory that the hauling of coal thru South Jacksonville would be detrimental to property there and an annoyance to residents.

The appropriation for the switch was $2,000 unless this work is done before July next the money will revert to the state and not be available. Dr. Rowe learned that the legislature in Springfield recently and called the attention of the council to them with the idea that it would be a wise thing if the Jacksonville council would take the matter up with the board of South Jacksonville in an effort to reach some amicable settlement.

ST. LOUIS PLANS TO MAKE RIVER INTO BIG SEWER

To Be Thirteen Miles Long and Largest Sewer in World—Will Not Be Constructed Until Necessary Funds are Available.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 29.—A plan to convert the River des Peres into the largest sewer in the world at a cost of approximately $6,500,000 has been approved by the St. Louis Board of Public Service.

The sewer, if built according to plans, will be thirteen miles long and will cut more than three miles from the stream's length by straightening it out and "harnessing" it. The plan adopted will not be put into effect until the necessary funds are available, but formal approval by the board means that when the work is undertaken it must follow the plan placed in the board's record.

The plan calls for a single barrel tube 32 feet wide and 25 feet high from the western city limits to the Union Avenue entrance to Forest Park. The section through Forest Park to Macklin avenue would contain two tubes, each 29 feet wide and 24 feet high. The section from Macklin avenue to the Mississippi river would be an open concrete channel ranging from 90 feet wide at the top to 200 feet wide as it nears the river.

The River des Peres, ordinarily a shallow stream, drains the hill country southwest and west of St. Louis, and in time of heavy rains becomes a torrent that floods streets and homes. If the sewer is built, the flood menace will be removed.

AUSTRIAN CONDITIONS SHOW SLIGHT CHANGE

Army Shows Strength Despite Heavy Losses and Merger With German Forces is Complete—Food Plentiful at Front—War Has Effect Upon Mind of Soldier

Vienna, Jan. 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The closing days of 1916 found Austria-Hungary more or less in the position she was in at the end of 1915. The resources of the dual monarchy, men and material alike, were further depleted by military operations, but the nature of the demands made this year upon all belligerents is such that Austria-Hungary has not suffered more than her antagonists it is declared.

While the Austro-Hungarian losses in men have been heavy, there is no reason to believe that the army has ceased to be a strong organization. Depreciation in numerical strength has been attended by great improvements in organization and leadership. The lessons brought by the war have been eagerly employed. The capacity of the officer has been heightened, and the almost complete merger of the army with the German forces cooperating with it has resulted in a uniformity of action which the arrangements obtaining at the outbreak of the war could not effect. At the lower Eastern and Rumanian front it is impossible to find a tactical unit of unmixed Central troops. Germans and Austro-Hungarians may in turn outnumber one another in a larger organization, may be commanded by either a German or Austro-Hungarian officer, the fact remains that they are a unit getting orders from the same headquarters, to carry them out for the common purpose.

Several trips to various German and Austro-Hungarian fronts have shown the Associated Press correspondent that relations between the Austro-Hungarian and German soldiers are the best. They may be found together in the same artillery position and the same firing line. Usually keen rivalry exists between them, military necessity thus providing for new incentive to do the best.

A new feature of the European war in 1916 was the participation on the Dardanelles and Russian fronts by Ottoman troops. Recurring mentions of them in the official war reports shows that the Turk is proving of great value even here.

The year made heavy demands upon Austria-Hungary's supply of war material, but has not exhausted it. The scarcity in copper and tin has been met by employing iron and other available metals. Thor copper-roofs have been confiscated by the government, and even church bells melted down, the shortage is such metals has so far not affected the war in the least. Thousands of tons of copper, brass, tin, and nickel articles are being exchanged for similar articles made of iron and it is considered as altogether unlikely that the last man would fire a cartridge made from the last candlestick in the monarchy, as the saying goes. The clothing of the troops remains fairly good. The fact that old textiles are again and again converted into new fabrics has robbed the Austro-Hungarian army of the needless "pike-gray" uniforms that it wore two years ago. Then the Austro-Hungarian army was probably the best dressed in all Europe. Today this is no longer true.

Footwear continues to be excellent. The country has large stocks of cattle and good tanneries. While leather has risen enormously in price the army still wears the best shoes in the country.

Food is more plentiful at the front than in the rear, due in the main to the measure that from a district declared a war zone no food of any sort may be exported to the hand. The men receive their former rations of bread and meat. Meatless days are unknown at the actual front.

The war has not been without its effect upon the mind of the Austro-Hungarian soldier. It is a fact that the civil population is more tired of the war than the man in the trench. Usually the soldier has come to look upon military service as a duty that must be done. In many instances the psychological effect has been that the man has come to look upon military service as did the mercenary in centuries gone by. Work at the front has become a profession with him. He has no other cares than those related to his own person, and death has lost its terror by almost daily contact. A sad feature of this is that the man has been completely weaned away from his family. It is nothing unusual to have soldiers on furlough return to the front before the time is up. At the front they are carefree and all worry belongs to the officer.

You Need Not Suffer From Catarrh

You have probably been in the habit of using external treatments to relieve your catarrh. You have applied sprays, washes and lotions to the mucous surfaces of the nose and throat, have been temporarily relieved, and then wondered a short time after, why you were troubled with another attack of catarrh.

You should realize that catarrh is an infection of the blood. This fact has been agreed upon by specialists in catarrh troubles, and has been proven in the laboratories of the Swift Specific Co. S. S. S., which was discovered over fifty years ago, will cleanse your blood of the catarrh poisons and will thereby relieve you of the dripping in your throat, the sores in your nostrils, spitting, hawking and bad breath.

All druggists carry S. S. S., and the physicians of our Medical Department will cheerfully answer any letters which you may write them in regard to your case. Swift Specific Co., 305 Swift Building, Atlanta, Ga.

STOCKS REACT; GAINS GIVE WAY TO LOSSES

Losses Among Leaders Amount to
From 1 To 3 Points With Greater Recessions in Speculative Issues.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Beginning with a general demonstration of strength today's market soon reacted, virtually all gains giving way to losses of 1 to 3 points among leaders and greater recessions in the speculative shares.

More than ordinary interest attached to the course of United States steel because of tomorrow's quarterly meeting of the directors when action on the common dividend is to be taken, together with publication of the financial statement. Steel moved between 1 1/2 and 1 3/4, closing at the low price, a net loss of 1 1/2 points.

Between steel and points on two sides and low priced industrials yielded 1 1/2 to 2 1/4 by Nova Scotia steel and American Iron Works, the latter a net loss of 1 1/2 points.

Merchandise and shipping became heavy after their early advances and Mexican copper, lead and silver advanced 1/2 point, group dragged through with an extreme loss of 6 points for general motors and a net loss of 1 1/2 points for the entire group.

Exchange rates on the bellagio countries were again continuing, rubber, sugar and lines making concessions with steadiness in remittances to London and Paris.

International bonds held their ground except for a slight shading of the Kingdom 5 1/2. Total sales of bonds, approximately, amounted to $12,000,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

"WHAT IS A ONE CENT SALE?"

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price—then another item of the same kind for 1c. As an illustration: The standard price of Rexall Tooth Paste is 25c. You buy a tube at this price, and by paying 1c more, or 26c, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high-class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as we sell you every day at regular prices, and have sold you for years.

A NEW WAY OF ADVERTISING

This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell you a full-sized package of high standard merchandise for 1c. It costs money to get new customers, and the loss taken on this sale will be well spent if the good please you.
